

Hi everyone,

I received a call from a company called Blue Sky Telemetry, who market a product called Care Trak. Some info below:

"The Care Trak system is based around a small wrist watch size radio transmitter worn 24 hours a day by your child which transmits a signal every second. Once the your child goes beyond the area you set, Care Trak alerts you immediately and the equipment you have then becomes a tool to trace your child".

The website address if you are interested in finding out more about the product is:

<http://www.caretrak.co.uk/autism.html>

The website of the company that distribute the product in the UK is:

<http://www.blueskytelemetry.com>

Jim Adams from Blue Sky Telemetry offers demonstrations of the product - his telephone number is 01887 820816 if you are interested in finding out more.

Many thanks,.

Chris
